

The Same Thing Again

Billy Preston

I love you, and you love me
We've shared the joy, but we still have misery
But if I had to do it over, over again
I'd do the same thing again

We've shared the joy, we've shared the pain
Sometimes tears will fall like rain
But if I had to do it over, over again
I'd do the same thing again

Now, some folks won't understand this love affair
But those of you who really love, those of you who've loved
Would understand and care

Oh, when you love someone, you give and you give them all that you have
Woah, woah, when you love someone hard times don't seem so bad
Oh, if I, if I had to do it over, over again
Oh lord, I'd do the same thing again

Some folks won't understand our love affair
But those of you who really love, those of you who've been in l ove
Can understand and care

When you love someone, give them all that you have Oh, when you love someone
Hard times don't seem so bad
Oh, if I, had to do it over, and over, and over, over I'd do, I'd do the same thing again
Oh, I'd do, I'd do the same thing, the same thing, the same thi ng, the same thing
I'd do the same thing again
