

Give It To Somebody

Billy Ray Cyrus

I've been walking up and down this road
Missing something, searching high and low
Grabbing anything I could hold
Holding tight and never letting go

Taking too much of everything I wanted
Got me thinking about what I really need
The only thing I'm taking when I'm leaving
Is something to believe in

What good is a heart not loving
What good are those arms not hugging
What good is that smile you're smiling
Till you give it to somebody

Take a look at that life you're living
All you've got and all you've been given
What good is all the good you're getting
Till you give it to somebody, whoa, whoa, whoa
You gotta give it to somebody

You see the little moments everywhere
When all somebody needed was someone who cared
Someone to say let me help you there
Is there anything I can do?

I still remember the way it felt
To feel a helping hand when I needed help
And the words what good is what you've got give
If you keep it all to yourself

What good is a heart not loving
And what good are those arms not hugging
What good is that smile you're smiling
Till you give it to somebody

Take a look at that life you're living
And all you've got and all you've been given
What good is all the good you're getting
Till you give it to somebody, whoa, whoa, whoa
You gotta give it to somebody

What good is a heart not loving
And what good are those arms not hugging
What good is that smile you're smiling
Till you give it to somebody, yeah

Take a look at that life you're living
All you've got and all you've been given
What good is all the good you're getting
Till you give it to somebody

What good is all the good you're getting
Till you give it to somebody, whoa, whoa, whoa
You gotta give it to somebody
