

I Ain't Even Left

Billy Ray Cyrus

My bags are packed this evening, you know, I'll soon be leavin'
It's gonna be another long night, mmm a long, long night
I know that we just said, hello, now, it's time for me to go
You wouldn't want me to miss my flight, not out of mind but out of sight
I ain't even left and it already don't feel right

How in the hell can we let love grow?
When the only thing we ever know is, I'll call you or you call me
Love is blind so I can't see, the only thing I know is baby
I ain't even left and it already don't feel right

I ain't even left and it already don't feel right
All I know is I can't control this missin' you inside
Loneliness like I've never known, 'til you walked into my life
And I ain't even left and it already don't feel right
And I ain't even left and it already don't feel right

I ain't even left and it already don't feel right
All I know is I can't control this missin' you inside
Loneliness like I've never known, 'til you walked into my life
And I ain't even left and it already don't feel right
And I ain't even left and it already don't feel right
