Hanging by a Thread

Billy Talent

Hello, hello, hello my darling, have we reached the end? Cause when the stitches fall apart we're hanging by a thread Hello, hello, hello my darling, some things never change When our words are dipped in gasoline, our love goes up in flam es I tried so hard to get behind your mental barricade But every time it leaves me feeling damaged, torn, and frayed Hanging by a thread Hanging by a thread When you break my heart, I fall apart 'til you stitch me up aga in I'm tired of all the drama that unravels in your head Well, it's easy to get tangled up when your world is torn to sh reds And every time you spit at me, some day you will regret An ounce of insecurity is worth a pound of lead Hanging by a thread Hanging by a thread When you break my heart, I fall apart 'til you stitch me up aga in Hanging by a thread Hanging by a thread C'mon patch me up, or cut me loose, cause these rags are turnin q red C'mon patch me up, or cut me loose, cause I'm hanging by a thre ad Hello, hello, hello my darling, have we reached the end? Cause when the stitches fall apart we're hanging by a thread For all the times we've hurt each other, with all the things we 've said Well, it's hard to hold this olive branch with a gun against my head Hanging by a thread Hanging by a thread When you break my heart, I fall apart 'til you stitch me up aga in Hanging by a thread Hanging by a thread C'mon patch me up, or cut me loose, cause these rags are turnin g red

C'mon patch me up, or cut me loose, cause I'm hanging by a thre ad