I've walked a million miles across this floor and a million tim es I opened this door

But all there ever is the blues hmm it's lonesome without you I know we just broke up two days ago but it seems a million years or so

To get you back there's nothing I want do hmm it's lonesome wit hout you

If I could count high enough I'd let you know
How many times I wished that you'd walk through that door
And love me as only you can do hmm it's lonesome without you
If I could count high enough...

Oh love me as only you can do hmm it's lonesome without you