

DRUNK ENOUGH

Bilmuri

Did I do too much?
Feeling like the world's too much
I need a burning in my blood
Just turn it down for a second
Now my body is shaking, I can't keep a thought
A night of escaping, now I'm waking up
I'm feeling so empty but it's never enough

'Cause I pass out before I'm drunk enough
Keep my head under the water till I'm feeling numb
Voices in my head, screaming just to give it up
'Cause I'm not drinking any more of this fake love
I think I need your love, your love
Think I need your love, your love

Did I do too much?
Or maybe I'm just way too drunk
I need to mediate the rush
Just for a minute
'Cause the bottom of the bottle's never deep and it's killing me
Pour myself another drink, gimme anything
Will it be over?
Will I ever get sober?

'Cause I pass out before I'm drunk enough
Keep my head under the water till I'm feeling numb
Voices in my head, screaming just to give it up
'Cause I'm not drinking any more of this fake love
I think I need your love, your love
Think I need your love, your love

I keep getting drowned by my problems
Stuck with the poison at the bottom
Do I have a choice or could I ever change?

'Cause I pass out before I'm drunk enough
Keep my head under the water till I'm feeling numb
Voices in my head, screaming just to give it up
'Cause I'm not drinking any more of this fake love
