Reflections

The smile hides the shadows in this place
I keep moving
I'm trying my best right now to find my place
But this room's too small

So I'll stand across the room
I can't pull myself from you
If I could only talk with you...

This gravity
Is always pulling me to you
Do you feel the same?
Or do you just keep looking through?
But this room's too small
To break down your wall

So I'll stand across the room
I can't pull myself from you
I feel like we're losing light
'Cause I'm out of mind
And out of sight

So I'll stand across the room
I can't pull myself from you
So I'll stand across the room
I can't pull myself from you
