I'll take the weight off of your eyelids
So you understand you're not alone
That your pain is mine now
'Cause you found home right in my soul
Lay your head on me and rest your bones

I, I wanna take the weight off your shoulders
So you can stand again
I, I wanna take the weight off your shoulders
So you can stand again, stand again

Don't hold your breath, don't keep your eyes closed
The pain in your chest, holding it in
Just let everything go
Mirror the motions, I will follow
So you can pour your heart out to me tomorrow, oh

When I see the pain in your eyes
I could never feel alive
When I see the pain in your eyes
I could never feel alive
(I could never feel alive)

I, I wanna take the weight off your shoulders
So you can stand again
I, I wanna take the weight off your shoulders
So you can stand again, stand again
