

STRAIGHT THROUGH YOU

Bilmuri

Count it out, take a bigger breath
It always feels so exhausting
Now I'm lying down like I never left
Turn my head around, it keeps talking

I just need a break
From always feeling so damn out of place
I can't look at myself in the face anymore

Why do I feel
Maybe I need help to tell me what's real?
I'm scared of losing myself and everyone else
So tell me what you hate, something I could change?
'Cause all I do is look straight through you
Why do I feel?

I'm not even gonna lie
Say I'm doing fine
But they don't know that I
Wish I was somebody else
Can anyone, anyone save me from my mind?
'Cause it keeps telling me lies
But they don't know sometimes
I wish I was somebody else
Can anyone tell me?

Why do I feel
Maybe I need help to tell me what's real?
I'm scared of losing myself and everyone else
So tell me what you hate, something I could change?
'Cause all I do is look straight through you
Why do I feel?

Why do I feel
Oh, maybe I need help to tell me what's real?
I'm scared of losing myself and everyone else
So tell me what you hate, something I could change?
'Cause all I do is look straight through you
Why do I feel?
Why do I feel?
