

Changes

Bipolar Sunshine

Rolling through changes
Rolling
Rolling through changes of our life
Rolling through changes
Rolling
Rolling through changes of our life

This is a song for you when I'm on the stage
Pouring my heart for you
Writing a song for you
You'd probably want me to turn off the TV and come back to bed
But my bed tonight isn't the bed I like
I guess we'll talk in the morning
When we are fresh
When you wake up and you take your first breath
Eyes open wide like you are impressed by person beside you although I'm a mess
I miss you dearly
Miss the feeling of you near me
Wrote this song because I feel the distance growing
Hope you hear me

Rolling through changes
Rolling
Rolling through changes of our life
Rolling through changes
Rolling
Rolling through changes of our life

More often when I get up off the stage
I just call you back to let you know how it went but baby
Now I know I said things are gonna change
Still I got you on the phone shouting at me talking crazy
I was out of line
Should've been more sensitive
Digging my own mines
Running through my mind
Changes come with time

We're running and running and running away
We're running and running and running away
I'm sorry that I'm still falling
You could have been with a better man
Dealt a better hand in life it can get so cold
You're the only heart that can warm my soul
And now we're

Rolling through changes
Rolling
Rolling through changes of our life
Rolling through changes
Rolling
Rolling through changes of our life

Rolling through changes
Rolling
Tiskeno z písničky-akordy.cz
Rolling through changes of our life