

She was standing right beside me
Waiting for her coffee
I think I caught her looking but I'm not sure
I'm always overthinking
There's a time bomb ticking
My ship is slowly sinking but I'll pull through

Head is spinning
Lights are dimming
Why would we drown in doubt
If we could swim and let it in

I just wanna be safe with someone
But we keep playing it safe and that sucks (woah)
I don't know if the world will stop burning
Just take my hand
And give me your trust (woah)
There's nothing safe about love (woah)
There's nothing safe about love

It's now or never if I want it
Can fight it or confront it
But then we look away
And we pause, wait
I catch him watching me, I swallow
My pride and then I follow
The pacing of my fate
And his heart rate

Head is spinning
Lights are dimming
Why would we drown in doubt
If we could swim and let it in

I just wanna be safe with someone
But we keep playing it safe and that sucks (woah)
I don't know if the world will stop burning
Just take my hand
And give me your trust (woah)
There's nothing safe about love (woah)
There's nothing safe about love
