

The Replacement

Birdeatsbaby

Losing is something you do well but you always play to chase
Staying up 'til the sun comes up and your eyeballs look so strange
You will say what they want you to and never disagree
The new girl looks just like you but she has bigger teeth

Say it! It's over!
Say it! Say that it
's true! Do it! Now cos she'
s leaving. She's a substitute

For once take the mask away We can see your face has changed
You could have been so intelligent But you eat the scraps again

You will dress how they want you to and match them drink for drink
Cross my eyes and hope to die you've never learned to think

Say it! It's over!
Say it! Say that it
's true! Do it! Now cos she'
s leaving. She's a substitute

Hang them high We'll crack the sky And watch them kicking

Dear, it's fair That although you tear No one's questioning your grace

Sleep all day 'til the stars come out And you dare to show your face You will wait 'til they left the room To cover it with flames
Nothing hurts more than the burn But it's a worthy gain

Say it! It's over!
Say it! Say that it
's true! Do it! Now that she's leaving. She's a substitute

Hang them high We'll crack the sky And watch them kicking

Say it! It's over!
Say it! Say that it
's true! Do it! Now that she
's leaving. She's a substitute.
