

Addison

Birds of Tokyo

I felt a shift in the sand
As you pulled away from my hand
I didn't see it
I didn't know
All of your secrets
Why you had to go

How could you leave me here my friend
Somewhere between alive and dead
I thought we'd make it to the end
Don't leave me Addison

Hard fights and words to wound
Long nights and silent rooms
What did I do love
What did I say
I thought that I knew you
Thought you would stay

How could you leave me here my friend
Somewhere between alive and dead
I thought we'd make it to the end
Don't leave me Addison

I held on to your hand
As long as I could
You broke the connection
Cut right through the rope
Left me here stranded
Like some kind of ghost
Haunted by silence

How could you leave me here my friend
Somewhere between alive and dead
I thought we'd make it to the end
How could you leave me here my friend
Don't leave me Addison
