

When You Arrive

Birdtalker

Does Heaven feel like real life
Is it a sight you can't describe
Is there a view that casts across an endless sky
What do you see when you arrive

Yeah the wide world's always waiting
To throw another dark surprise
The echo's ringing from the sound you left behind
What do you hear when you arrive

The days drift by and turn to night
And every wind carries your whisper
If heaven is true how can we know while we're alive
Just let me know when you arrive

When you arrive
When you arrive