Mmm-hmm, Mr. Shakur, man, your essence remains pure.....

And by the freedom of God, we got a sure shot, and Jesusyou've been good to me when it all stops, my life goes on for sure, Mr . Shakur and blessed w ith your presence, your essence remains pure.....

I never made it in school in '92, lookin for a job as a parttime father, only if you knew Pac, with the chronic thru your music was gettin me thru, it's 1999 now, what we gone do, huh, ya oh! enemies snicker when I pour out a little liquor, better not pass me your name and make you out to be the sinner who spent the holiday with that ghetto, cookin a hood dinner, writin my memoirs right next to your picture, remember: Life Goes On, that's what you toold me homie, and $Sylk\sim E\sim Fine$ hooked it up in the nick of time you know meshit, I may be lonely and I talk to you, I hope you listening and we mob thru you, we all miss him, and mommy say hey, she feed the babies, Johnny J still crazy as hell, $\$ takin your class in college, hope I don't fail, I wish I had the mail for the million dollar bill, but that'd be too much like writin the whole sit uation, and it smells kind of fishy to me, bring the demons to the light, the truth-it might set me free, but they can't kill you twice, by the freedom of G od we have a sure shot, and Jesus you have been so good to me...

Yo, my friends ain't feelin me, tobacco companies make money off of k illin me, we been waitin for forty acres like we said it, damn, and the earthqu akes with the world's retaliation, all the abomination, call it El Nino, but it feels like revelation, huh, and Pac they got to you, you don't think I thin k a fan shot you, they was jealous of your jewelry, and the jury thought they got you, I fast, prepare for the rapture with a blast for the ghetto bastards, \boldsymbol{w} alk in the wilderness with God given talent for ashes, pass the pastor, he ain't helpin the hood like judges should, but life goes on, it's all good, and hom ie we fight for wood, to keep us stupid huh, and after Eazy, it ain't no mo

Ruthless acoustics, same producers seduce us, with jewels to boost us, before we prove em wrong, kinda revolutionary to move us, but life goes on, within the music and the song, it's abusive if you use it to fuel you r fire, huh...

Supportin my people, distortin my people, they callin my people, evil is finders keepers losers weep the reaper, all you G's now, proposition 187, and you think we sleep now, how in the new millenium could we smile, God loves the underdog, and of course the ghettos are close, just when the rain falls, reminisce on tattoos, the oceans, pain y'all, note here for the dosage of prozac he prescribed, ther's too much melanin in my system, musical group, we won't die, and what's the mea ning of survival, knowledge of wealth is right there in your bible look at the literal and learn yourself, pass me the lighter when I'm stressin on these is sues, did

I mention my momma gonna need some tissue when they get you, I continue to flow eternal, remember Mo Murda way back in the day, smokin burners with l il Layzie, man we shootin at the turtle, him and his big boyz doggin me out, I'm all alone with my Thuggish Ruggish shirt on, but still many, I don't hate you, we black and strong, even though I know right where you live, I forgive you an d life goes on...
