

Don't Forget

Black Atlass

I'm holding on
I can't afford to forget
That you're so far gone
I'm not over us yet
And I tried to talk
But I ran out of breath

I hope that you remember these days
When you're looking for love
And down on your luck
I'll be one phone call away
When you need someone
To call your bluff
I'll pick up so you can hear me say

Don't forget who loved you in the moment
Don't forget who dried your tears away
Don't forget who stood with arms wide open
While you walked the other way

Let me guess you're done
Until you call back to say
That you messed it up
I know all of your ways
And I've had enough
I'm pretty far from okay

I hope that you remember these days
When you're looking for love
And down on your luck
I'll be one phone call away
When you need someone
To call your bluff
I'll pick up so you can hear me say

Don't forget who loved you in the moment
Don't forget who dried your tears away
Don't forget who stood with arms wide open
While you walked the other way

Don't forget who loved you in the moment
Yeah don't forget who dried your tears away
Don't forget who stood with arms wide open
While you walked the other way
