

Exploits In Frailty

Black Comedy

Now we're strangers more than we ever were Love executed with simple words
And I was the one who had to understand and accept
The final verdict you could explain yourself
You're thoughts can be summed up: I'll do whatever suits me
Well at least someone's got it all off of their chest
Taking the easiest way out is what always you did best!

If it's all the same for you and me
I'm not the only one
Now that I am gone
It was all up to me?
So manipulative
I'll never see you again...
Fake from top to bottom
My eyes sorely blinded
Anticipating hate
Never see your face again

Evidently too much for you
Still ignorant to the damage you've done
Do you truly know what it really feels like?
You don't even have your feet on the ground
Breaking up harder than you thought: well that's love for you!
Well at least someone's got it all off of their chest
Taking the easiest way out is what always you did best!

If it's all the same for you and me
I'm not the only one
Now that I am gone
It was all up to me?
So manipulative
I'll never see you again...
Fake from top to bottom
My eyes sorely blinded
Anticipating hate
Never see your face again

New shallows... you never believed in a love where you had to give

I was a free-to-fall sucker blinded by love
Emotionally exploited beyond repair
And everybody could see what you did was wrong
The pain you prolonged!
These actions left me no choice but to hate
All the half-hearted shit you represent
Convenient silence, true neglect
Do you still think your judgement is unsuspect?

You still haunt me now in my dreams
Fucked me as long as I suit your needs
What she loved was herself
And I played your game