Okay

As a young kid, I studied the unknown on the internet
Sacred geometries
Metatron's Cube
The Flower of Life
The Worldsoul
Y'know all that...

When you're-
When you're a kid, y'know, you wanna try and understand the world
Try and find your place in it
People love to tell you your place in it but Isn't that just for them?
Isn't it always just for them?

But it makes sense to
Wanna
Know
What your place in the world should be
But it's not for them
It's never, ever, ever been just for them

I never, never, never, never, never should have tried
I never should have tried but it's not my fault
What does it really take to want to hurt a child?
It seems like it's not much for a lot of people
