

So Wrong

Black Milk

Picking up the pieces that you shattered on my floor
The house feels so much bigger babe
"Coz you're not around no more
Tucked away all the pictures for a lonely rainy day
I wouldn't feel so broken babe
If I hadn't hurt you that way

What came over me?
Why didn't I see you gave me all I need?
You showed me sweet love's supposed to be
I was drowning in your song
How could something so wonderful go so wrong?

I've been feeling uneasy and i won't pick up the phone
I know you aren't calling babe
So I'm better off alone
I just need a little distraction but I won't find peace in this place
Everywhere I'm reminded
All I see is your face.

What came over me?
Why didn't I see you gave me all I need?
You showed me sweet love's supposed to be
I was drowning in your song
How could something so wonderful go so wrong
