

Holding On... to Letting Go

Black Stone Cherry

It took love, it took pain
To make me feel alive today
Black eyes, suicide, I dug my grave and walked away
Rain, wash away
The emptiness, please I pray
Cause I've been alone
As I've walked, the darkest roads.

I'm holding on, to letting go
Of everything that I have known
Life it comes and goes
Please take these burdens and free my soul

Through blood, through tears
I fought the war that kept me here
Black clouds, turn to blue
The crucified, lead me through

I'm holding on, to letting go
Of everything that I have known
Life it comes and goes
Please take these burdens and free my soul

I'm holding on, to letting go
Of everything that I have known
Life it comes and goes
Please take these burdens and free my soul
