

If My Heart Had Wings

Black Stone Cherry

You said I'm leaving on a west bound train
Cause those three words that I couldn't say
It's a cross I'll bear until my dyin' day
And I'm feeling like I failed the test
I've got this hole inside my chest
I'm a mess and there's nothing left to say

If my heart had wings, I'd rise above all my mistakes
Do what it takes, go anywhere to bring you back to me
If my heart had lips, I'd tell ya all the things I miss and steal your kiss
I'm lost without you

I'm alone here and my prides gone dry
Can't find a tear when I wanna cry
And it's really starting to feel like goodbye
Just like goodbye

If my heart had wings, I'd rise above all my mistakes
Do what it takes, go anywhere to bring you back to me
If my heart had lips, I'd tell ya all the things I miss and steal your kiss
I'm lost without you

And if I had my way on the day you ran away
I would hit rewind to before you were gone
An angel with no halo, rain with no rainbow
Yeah that's me, without you standing by my side

If my heart had wings, I'd rise above all my mistakes
Do what it takes, go anywhere to bring you back to me
If my heart had lips, I'd tell ya all the things I miss and steal your kiss
I'm lost without you
I'm lost without you
