

Alone

Black Tide

Is it really something out there
Waiting for all of us
Is it really someone watching
To see is making through this loss
Our every move, our every word
It all seems a little too unreal
Don't wanna hear it'll be alright
Yeah I know we'll be just fine
Just open your eyes

We both know (that where we stand)
We're not alone, alone

And I can see so much clearer now
It just took me a while
To understand that there's nothing wrong with
Believe in unbelievable
Just open your eyes

We both know (that where we stand)
We're not alone, alone
We both know (there's so much more)
We're not alone, alone

And in my darkest days
I've never felt alone
To people I don't need them
We're never be alone
(and in my darkest days
I've never been alone
To people I don't need them
We're never be alone, alone)

Is it really something out there
Waiting for all of us
Is it really someone watching
To see is making through this loss

We both know (that where we stand)
We're not alone, alone
We both know (there's so much more)
We're not alone, alone

We both know (right where we stand)
We're not alone, alone
We both know (there's so much more)
We're not alone, alone
