

Angel in the Dark

Black Tide

She walks the dark streets in heels and every man around caves in over and over again

No one cares bout how she feels but surely they leave the stain of sins on her skin

Her soul seems unbreakable, she's been through hell and back in search of pu rpose

I'm screaming

She won't find it looking in the dirt She has gotta look up and let the light into her heart

She's been blackened She's been torn apart
but maybe this is not the end
She can start again

She's an angel in the dark
Angel in the dark

If you walk this world alone you simply will not make it

Don't let darkness win the fight

Let your heart guide your way home and don't you ever question it

You gotta find the light

Your soul is vulnerable cause you've been through hell and back in search of purpose

I'm screaming

You won't find it looking in the dark Angel you gotta look up and let
the light into your heart

You've been blackened
You've been torn apart
but baby this is not the end
You can start again

Angel in the dark

We can start again

We've all been mislead
We've all got some dirt You just gotta look up and let

You're my angel in the dark
You're an angel in the dark
