Black Abyss

There's nothing left for me to say The thought of end is killing me I guess it's time for my demise There's no more time I'm left aside There's no more pain There's no more pain There's no more tears There's no more feeling No more fear The darkness creeps upon my skin These wounds won't heal This is my sin

This is the black abyss My life's apocalypse Eternal suffering No future for me to see

This is the black abyss Executor of my soul This darkness fills my eyes And I'm now left behind

As my life rots away I long the day of my decay I'll soon be there in death's grasp It won't let go now I'm dead This paranoia I can't last These days are now my last The sense of evil is closing in It is a phobia that kills within

This is the black abyss My life's apocalypse Eternal suffering No future for me to see

This is the black abyss Executor of my soul This darkness fills my eyes And I'm now left behind

This is the black abyss My life's apocalypse Eternal suffering No future for me to see
