

Let Me Watch You Make Love

Black

Sometimes I wonder at this shame I hide
Pare away the man and find the worm inside
Your mind's unclear and instinct is a lie
I hear what you say you'd do
And I wish it were true

How can he take you when you give yourself?
All the old lies just to bind yourself
Then you wrap yourself around me and Whisper in my ear
'where is your jealousy?'
all I feel is fear
I want to hear you, I want to see
Let me watch you make love
And imagine that it's me
