

Liquid Dream

Black

Remember what we said to each other in soft light
And our shadow world gazes as empty as a book

We've got something that's real, a moment not to take somewhere
A future that's now now now, together, together

We are holding on, my backs scratched
Baby bitch we're so god like when we gasp with joy
A painless pain, a dreamless dream, a hidden wisdom on We'll push each other higher than to heaven
We'll push each other higher than to heaven

We've got something that's real, a moment not to take somewhere
A future that's now now now, together, together

When I'm king I'll spread words like honey over your body
I'm never wrong but if I am there's nothing sweeter than eating my words

When you're dead I'll wear you over my shoulders like a king but Never cold, but when I am there's nothing warmer than wearing my dreams
