

Who You Are

Black

As lovely as cold stars
Lonely as space
You take me to places
I can't imagine any longer
So don't you stop dancing
And I'll watch you sleep
As yesterday's dormant
And tomorrow's far from forgotten

I wonder who you are?
I wonder where you go to
When you want to know
Who fixes broken hearts

I want but don't love you
And hunger too hard
My dream on a silver screen
That never seems like coming closer
I want what you're wanting
I want what you need
A hundred years older
Than the dream of unforgetting

I wonder who you are?
I wonder where you go to
When you want to know
Who fixes broken hearts

I'll take you as you are
I'll roam with every moment
'Til you need to slow
What wants to fall apart
