

1 SIDED LOVE

Blackbear

You're too busy talking over me to hear what I'm saying
You're too high to realize
I see through the smile that you're faking
You're so into yourself, everyone else is overrated
And everything's changing; is your heart worth breaking?

One-sided, one-sided, one-sided love
Our time is, our time is, our time is up
Trying to make this work, it ain't enough
One-sided, one-sided, one-sided love

And you don't even notice, do you?
Everything perfect to you
Think you love the idea of us more than the real thing
Hope your heart don't break too much

You're too busy talking over me to hear what I'm saying
You're too high to realize
I see through the smile that you're faking
You're so into yourself, everyone else is overrated
And everything's changing; is your heart worth breaking?

I'm missing the way that it used to be
You say I changed; maybe you changed me
I swear lettin' you down, lettin' you down is hard enough
When it's one-sided, one-sided, one-sided love

You don't even notice, do you?
Everything perfect to you
Think you love the idea of us more than the real thing
Hope your heart don't break too much

You're too busy talking over me to hear what I'm saying
You're too high to realize
I see through the smile that you're faking
You're so into yourself, everyone else is overrated
And everything's changing; is your heart worth breaking?

Is your heart worth breaking?
Is your heart worth breaking?
Is your heart worth breaking?
Is your heart worth breaking?
