

CHANGES

Blackbear

Yeah, yeah, hey, hey

You tell lies and you cry just a little
Don't feel bad, you shouldn't know that
On the phone like it's now or it's never
Been drunk like three whole days, like, why?
It's sad but true, can't be in love with you
Yeah, yeah

And it's been on my mind way too often
I can't understand where we went wrong

But I've been going through changes
Going through changes without you
Yeah, I've been going through changes
Going through changes without you
And I worry one day you'll wake up and you won't know me
And I worry one day I'll wake up and you won't know me
And I worry one day I'll wake up and you won't know me anymore

I told lies, could have tried just a little
Could have tried didn't fight for your mind
Side girl got right in the middle
You went left, I was wrong and I know that I
I did you dirty
Couldn't fix this with just words

And it's been on my mind way too often
I can't understand where we went wrong

But I've been going through changes
Going through changes without you
I've been going through changes
Going through changes without you
And I worry one day you'll wake up and you won't know me
And I worry one day I'll wake up and you won't know me
And I worry one day I'll wake up and you won't know me anymore
