

Ghost Town (feat. Sasha Alex Sloan)

Blackbear

Your heart is a ghost town
My head is a nightmare
The more that I reach out
The more that you're not there
Your heart is a ghost town
My head is a nightmare
But that's where you want me
You know that it's not fair

So many people were around last year that I don't even know now
Rather lock myself inside my room and be alone now
We don't got nothin' to say, you leave my love on froze now
Thanks for nothin', I don't care, your heart is like a ghost town

And all I have left is this pain
You say that you want me to stay
You keepin' me runnin' in place
I swear that you like it this way
I swear to God that your

Your heart is a ghost town
My head is a nightmare
The more that I reach out
The more that you're not there
Your heart is a ghost town
My head is a nightmare
But that's where you want me
You know that it's not fair

Your heart is a ghost town
My head is a nightmare
If ever you need me

You know I'll be right there
You know I'll be right there

So many people were around last year that I don't even know now
Emotions that I thought would last forever I don't show now
Vacant rooms and empty words are really all I know now
Thanks for nothin', you don't care, your heart is like a ghost town

You don't got nothin' to say
You keep on runnin' away
All that I feel is ashamed
I swear to God that your

Your heart is a ghost town
My head is a nightmare
The more that I reach out
The more that you're not there
Your heart is a ghost town
My head is a nightmare
But that's where you want me
You know that it's not fair

Your heart is a ghost town
My head is a nightmare (A nightmare)
If ever you need me
You know I'll be right there
You know I'll be right there

Your heart is like a ghost town
Your heart is like a ghost town
