

nothing matters

Blackbear

Nothin' matters tonight
Hold me close, tell me lies
You used to get me high
Now I'm starin' at the same four walls and
It feels like nothin' matters

I'm sinkin' like a stone in the ocean
Room full of the smoke and you're the sting in my eyes
You really wrote me off like a poem
Now I feel nothing when I see you cry

I'm so fuckin' numb, I'm standin' there just starin' at the brake lights
I can't even step foot in the city that you reside
You are not the same, you changed and now we're sayin' goodbye
I'd rather feel nothing inside

Nothin' matters tonight
Hold me close, tell me lies
You used to get me high
Now I'm starin' at the same four walls and
I feel like nothin' matters tonight
I never told you goodbye
You used to get me high
Now I'm starin' at the same four walls and
It feels like nothin' matters

I'm built just like a home that is broken
On an empty street that's paved with lies
Now all I wanna feel is emotion
But all you ever had to do was try

I'm so fuckin' numb, I'm standin' there just starin' at the brake lights
I can't even step foot in the city that you reside
You are not the same, you changed and now we're sayin' goodbye
I'd rather feel nothing inside

Nothin' matters tonight
Hold me close, tell me lies
You used to get me high
Now I'm starin' at the same four walls and
I feel like nothin' matters tonight
I never told you goodbye
You used to get me high
Now I'm starin' at the same four walls and
It feels like nothin' matters

I feel nothing, ever after
It's all your fault
Nothing matters
Give me something worth chasing after
It's all your fault
Nothing matters
(It don't matter, none of this matters)

Nothin' matters tonight
Hold me close, tell me lies
You used to get me high

Now I'm starin' at the same four walls and
I feel like nothin' matters tonight
I never told you goodbye
You used to get me high
Now I'm starin' at the same four walls and
It feels like nothin' matters
