Take The Highway

Blackberry Smoke

Take the highway
Lord knows, darlin', don't you know?

The day you turn around, will I be gone?

And the time will finally come For me to pack my bags and walk away Hear me say

I'll be back someday But darlin' please don't wait for me too long There's just one place I can't stay Where memories of your love still lingers on

And the time will finally come For me to pack my bags and walk away Hear me say

I'll be back someday But, darlin', please don't wait for me too long There's just one place I can't stay Where memories of your love still lingers on

Take the highway Take the highway Take the highway, oh yeah

And the time will finally come For me to pack my bags and walk away Hear me say
