

Through The Crevice

Blackbriar

Kiss me and take me away
With your lips as cold as clay
I let myself fall backward
Into your dark embrace
I surrender to you
Nobody loves me like you do
And I let myself fall backward
Into your arms of gloom

Together we will fade into the void
Together we will fade into the void

You have been waiting for me
In the end, you are all I need
So I let myself fall backward
Into the Challenger Deep
Tonight the night seems darker
The moon and stars enshrouded by clouds
I let myself fall backward
Upon the wings of a blackbird

Together we will fly into the void
Together we will fly into the void

Take me with you through the crevice
I'll be your Persephone
But you won't be needing a pomegranate
I'll stay with you regardlessly

Isn't it beautiful, isn't it beautiful?

Together we will fade into the void
Together we will fade into the void

Take me with you through the crevice
I'll be your Persephone
But I won't ever make you mourn my absence
I'll love you endlessly

Take me with you through the crevice
I'll be your Persephone
But you won't be needing a pomegranate
I'll stay with you regardlessly
