

Live Another Day

Blacklite District

There's another way to look at things
But sometimes you're just blind
There's a path you haven't taken yet
And it's getting harder to find
So hard, those emotions
Keep getting in the way
Take a step back, brace yourself
And live another day, yeah...
Live another day, yeah...

Sick of being tired
Tired of being sick
Used to being high and wired
I'm done with all that shit
Tired of craving something
It just feels so wrong
Hope that I can turn around
Hope I'm not too far gone

I know I need to change right now
I hope I can turn this around

There's another way to look at things
But sometimes you're just blind
There's a path you haven't taken yet
And it's getting harder to find
So hard, those emotions
Keep getting in the way
Take a step back, brace yourself
And live another day, yeah...
Live another day, yeah...

There's another way to look at things
But sometimes you're just blind
There's a path you haven't taken yet
And it's getting harder to find
So hard, those emotions
Keep getting in the way
Take a step back, brace yourself
And live another day