

Long Live Everyone

Blacklite District

Long live everyone
I can see you rising like the sun
And I don't even feel right
No I don't feel right, hey
Long live everyone
I can see you rising like the sun
And I don't even feel right
No I don't feel right, hey

I'm depressed, such a mess, and I feel so many ways, lost so many days, count 'em
I lay wide awake every night in my mind hoping everything's gonna be alright
But I know that for real, it's always gonna feel cause it's so very fucking real
Ay, ay

I'm always just looking for a good time, something to take me out that bad mind
Something to keep me from a flat line, I gotta stay away from the flat line
A story that I have and it's all mine, living in a nightmare and it's all mine
All these fucking feelings and they're all mine, ay, ay, ay

All mine every day, all mine every day
Long live every day, long live everyone
I'm about to jump the gun, I'm about to get me some
You don't need to worry about me, son, you don't need to worry about me, no

Long live everyone
I can see you rising like the sun
And I don't even feel right
No I don't feel right, hey
Long live everyone
I can see you rising like the sun
And I don't even feel right
No I don't feel right, hey
