

I've been feeling so good and nothing can ever get the best of me
We've done more than anyone and everyone that most can ever see

I've been around the block, I know what's true and not
To see what's right in front of me and take control of what I do
You think you're always right, assume that you're the best
You hardly ever took the time to ever ace the test

We gave it all and knew the risk we're getting in Now that's how we live life on our terms
We all saw it coming, once it sunked in
All we had to do is believe and come to face it

The reason why we fall apart
Is to reconstruct who we are
We know that this is the start
But we know we'll go so far
'Cause we know who we are
We know we'll go far
We've been at it so long, so long

I've been feeling so good and nothing can ever get the best of me
We've done more than anyone and everyone that most can ever see
The reason why we fall apart is to reconstruct who we are
I've been feeling so good and nothing can ever get the best of me

I feel it getting closer to what we've always wanted
All our dues paid in full, we're now in charge of pull
I always knew we had it
Felt so amazed about it
It's the reason why we're going so far

So much to do, so much work to getting in
But once you're in it's your turn to be the star
It's worth all the risk, for all the times we had Fighting to live for all the dreams, I can't be mad

The reason why we fall apart
Is to reconstruct who we are
We know that this is the start
But we know we'll go so far
'Cause we know who we are
We know we'll go far
We've been at it so long, so long

I've been feeling so good and nothing can ever get the best of me
We've done more than anyone and everyone that most can ever see
The reason why we fall apart is to reconstruct who we are
I've been feeling so good and nothing can ever get the best of me