

Rewind

Blacktop Mojo

Rewind
To yesterday morning when
We were fine
Before we knew the world would end
If I told you
We could go back to that moment again
Would you drop everything, take my hand, and follow?
Would you choose yesterday or tomorrow?

Sunshine
Morning light creeping in White lies
I don't know what to say again
Is illusion
Better than the promise we give
When I love you for some reason seems hollow
Would you choose yesterday or tomorrow?

Don't speak now live in the moment babe
One wrong word and everything's changed
The second hand could tick and we lose everything we know
Fight back tears as the tape plays
It comes unwound and goes in and out of phase
The stereo is screaming and the song don't sound the same anymore
Rewind the track to way back before we knew the words

Inside
I think I know the answer you'll give
In your eyes
I can tell you're barely holding it in
When I met you
We radiated light from within
But we chewed that up and now it's time to swallow
Would you choose yesterday or tomorrow?

Don't speak now live in the moment babe
One wrong word and everything's changed
The second hand could tick and we lose everything we know
Fight back tears as the tape plays
It comes unwound and goes in and out of phase
The stereo is screaming and the song don't sound the same anymore
Rewind the track to way back before we knew the words

Don't speak now live in the moment babe
One wrong word and everything's changed
The second hand could tick and we lose everything we know
Fight back tears as the tape plays
It comes unwound and goes in and out of phase
The stereo is screaming and the song don't sound the same anymore
Rewind the track to way back before we knew the words
Rewind the track to way back before we knew the words