

Signal's Gone

Blacktop Mojo

Speak up now darlin'
You're growing faint
My technicolor view is turning gray
Twist the antenna around
Is there something wrong
There's nothing but white noise now
The signal's gone

I sit alone now
The screen is cracked
I hit the side again, but the picture won't come back
I tried to wait it out
But I fell asleep near dawn
I guess I won't know how it ends
The signal's gone
Gone gone gone...

The paint is peeling from the walls
Time makes fools of us all
Where did I go wrong?
Where did I go wrong?
