Blacktop Mojo

Sunshine never pushed my mind
Now my train is at the end of the line
I Don't think my heart'll beat one more time
Hard Times put a man on trial
Hold a mirror up to his disguise
See his soul shining out of his eyes

Well you can't lay me down
Can't snuff me out
I will not stop
I will not doubt
I will thrive

Fine lines form across my face
Every sin in life leaves a trace
From every depth and every dark place
But Hard times both small and great
Won't ever get in my way
Won't hold me down at the end of the day

Well you can't lay me down
Can't snuff me out
I will not stop
I will not doubt
I will thrive

Well you can't lay me down
Can't snuff me out
I will not stop
I will not doubt
I will thrive
