

Turn your mental prison to a maze
Turn the maze into a place where you're safe
We're not stepping on the graves even
Everything will wither and decay
But the energy will stay
Everyday or delay, every second even
Turn away for nothing just in case
A sensation but it's strange
In the way everything is a secret even-
Call myself a vessel, not a name
Call a taxi in the rain
Take a plane out of space to confess, I need it

Endlessly reflecting in your gaze
With the mirror and it breaks
Seven years, seven tears, seven different heavens
Blue and black I change another shade
And I'm trapped and in the grey
Change the rainbow in my brain, it's a ray of colour
Endlessly go over my mistakes
Just to find out what it takes
To be crazed, separate, differentiate it
You hold on to me, the part that stays
Makes me crawling in the wave, fly away
But today I'll go up, I know it

I throw all my sympathies away
Pray my card will be a ace
But my palm won't move a face
I can't stand to watch it
Everything is perfect in the void
I don't want it to be spoiled
I avoid it for so long, but I can't forever
(But I can't forever)

Endlessly reflecting in your gaze
With the mirror and it breaks
Seven years, seven tears, seven different heavens
Blue and black I change another shade
And I'm trapped and in the grey
Change the rainbow in my brain, it's a ray of colours
Endlessly go over my mistakes
Just to find out what it takes
To be crazed, separate, differentiate it
You hold on to me, the part that stays
Makes me crawling in the wave, fly away
But today I'll go up, I know it
