

Seven

Blake Mills

It's the seventh song on the record that always makes me cry
It's been seven years since we caught each other's eye
You're the seventh true love I've had in my life
And the only one I'd take to be my bride

There are those who oppose our union
It's fine, let 'em say what they will
This talk don't change nothing
'Cause love does as it does and it'll do as it will
It's the seventh song on the record that always makes me cry
It's been seven years since we caught each other's eye

And there is much to oppose our union
Distance a continent wide
But it cannot change how I'm feeling
I'm gonna love you, girl, till the day that I die

It's the seventh song on the record that always makes me cry
Seven years since we caught each other's eye
You're the seventh true love I've had in my life
And you're the only one I'd take to be my bride
