

Everything Is Connected

Blancmange

Take a train
With or without your baggage
Hang the washing out, do the washing up
Close the door and then lock it
Take a train to take a train back home
Unlock your door
Walk through your space, unlock the other door
Step out and breathe in
Take the washing down, take the whole world on
Take it on the chin, take in the washing

Everything is connected
Everything is connected

Going into the tunnel now
Probably lose you or me
Yes, we're on the same page
No, we're on the same page
Yes, we're on the same page

Everything is connected
Everything is connected

Feel like I'm morphing
Into something new or older
You need help, don't we all
From the foot of our stairs
To them out on a limb
No kith and kin

Everything is connected
Everything is connected

Breaking up now
Jumping, tripping
Such a long time ago
Not Glencoe, no [?]
Across two tabloid pages
Grainy halftone tumbler red
Potato stamp title name
No we're looking at most days
I seldom look in there now these days
Seldom look in there now

Everything is connected

Just another beautiful, beautiful sunset
