

Here We Go Go

Blancmange

I saw the pieces that were broken
Slip through my hands and away
And you ask how many hearts from how many starts
How many hearts touch the sun

Row after row row

That night by the storm I'm awoken
Never thought I'd see you on the day
I picked up the pieces that were broken
Reassembled I put them away

Here we go go

How many hearts, how many starts
How many hearts touch the sun
How many hearts, how many starts
How many hearts touch the sun

Here we go go

Here we go go
