

Not A Priority

Blancmange

Not a priority
They fail to see
Beyond blood, skin and bone
You arising
Can't be anything
Other than the way you are
To reach out in that night
And truly touch a star

Please be yourself
You can't be anybody else
Be yourself
Be yourself
You can't be anybody else
Be yourself

Bon oui good to be
That blood, this skin, these bones
Grand scheme
Do they ever even out?
Good enough for you
More than good enough for me
To reach out in that night
And truly touch a star

Please be yourself
You can't be anybody else
Be yourself
Be yourself
You can't be anybody else
Be yourself

Take your time
In your own words
They could hardly be anybody else's now
The silent are... could they?

The sky at night calls
Glitching in the system
Beyond blood, skin and home
The shelves aren't bare
Can't be anything
Other than the way you are
To reach out in that night
And truly touch a star

Please be yourself
You can't be anybody else
Be yourself
Be yourself
You can't be anybody else
Be yourself
