No more conversation, I know who you are.
Let's take this no further or I may go so far as to keep you from leaving. I would like to see you begging, barely breathing, on your knees.

All the things that I'd do to you
if only, I could do all the things that I want to.
If only you knew all the things I'd do... if you knew what I'd do
if I told you, you would keep me from you.

No more false pretension, you know who I am.
Let's end this flirtation. You already have given me inspiration, far more than I need to reclaim your lost smile, searching on my knees.

All the things that I'd do to you
if only, I could do all the things that I want to.
If only you knew all the things I'd do... if you knew what I'd do
if I told you, you would keep me from you.

You won't feel, again, that gentle touch you hate so much.
So I must refrain cuz what I'd like you'd love too much.

All the things that I'd do to you
if only, I could do all the things that I want to.
If only you knew all the things I'd do... if you knew what I'd do
if I told you, you would keep me from you.
