

Tired Eyes

Blaqk Audio

I think I saw you once
There in a dark place that cannot keep
Up with the changing times
Trading the light for tarnished rings

What you called by name
Every hard stone
You insisted might take you home

Wrongly imprisoned light
We will set free
Imprisoned in your eyes
There, you will hold me

I think you taught me there
Inside the dark place of which we speak
Only in whisperings
Training my voice to Eastern strings

When you called my name
I came alone
You insisted I take you home

Wrongly imprisoned light
We will set free
Imprisoned in your eyes
There, you will hold me
My long-desired light
We will set free
Imprisoned in your eyes
There, you will hold me

You will hold me
Hide your medals, hide your stones
Bury them with sacred bones
Name your medals, name your stones
Call them all, you're not, not alone
Call them all, you're not, not alone
Call them all, you're not, you're not alone

Wrongly imprisoned light
We will set free
Imprisoned in your eyes
There, you will hold me
Our long-desired light
We will set free
Imprisoned in your eyes
There, you will hold me
