

Warrior

Blaze Bayley

I can see the death of reason on the other side of fear
All their hatred has devoured every good thing that was here

Could I be a warrior
I'm broken
Alone
Left for dead
Can I be a warrior with courage to rise up again

We are damaged strange and different
We are victims of this place
I felt that I had no power
There was a choice that I could make

I can be a warrior
Broken
Alone
I can be a warrior
With courage to rise up again

Now my future is in my own hand
I choose
My future is in my own hand
Now my future is in my own hand
I choose
My future is in my own hand

I can choose my destiny
Feel the freedom within me
Choose which thoughts I will believe
Choose to get back on my feet
I can build the strength I need
I can find the bravery
Be defiant till the end and fight the darkness once again

I can be a warrior
Broken alone left for dead
I can be a warrior
With courage to rise up again
