

Speed Of Light

Blaze

All the force of nature, chaos and the death of hope
Don't resist them and accept the death of all you know
You walk alone and face the darkness you will be reborn
Rediscover your existence in it's purest form
Searching for the reasons why, will you know when it's your time?

Time flashes before your eyes

Watch everything change at the speed of light

The speed of light

As the future casts a shadow into here and now

Time tells a secret whisper it without a sound

You trust yourself your instincts or the answers of mankind

Will you ever have the strength to leave this world and find

Searching for the reasons why will you know when it's your time?
