

Everlasting

Bleed from Within

At dawn u left without a goodbye, I felt you slip through my fingers as i watched u fade away fragile you fought till the bitter end. i felt my heart sink it happened so quickly like a blur all i know is in that moment i had nothing left to live for i felt the world collapse on top of me at goodnight.
My whole life has no meaning, these walls are falling around me.
It was all for you just to make you proud now its gone Now its fucking gone and i am lost without you your face the soft sound of your voice ill never hear again is this real or is this the longest nightmare cause it seems so unreal to ever feel like this.
And on that day that curtain closed I felt the air drain from my lungs As half my world left in that breath and i fear of whats to come
