

Fall Away

Bleed from Within

This lesson will never be learned
A target on the back of those who stand and oppose
Denial, refusal to obey
A beckoning promise for the change we've made
Do they hear us? Do they want to believe?
Their primitive views will see us dead on our knees
We're living to escape reality
Regardless of the consequence

We are the voice, we are the voice
Of a voiceless generation

The one who stands is the one who dies first
Watching every step we take
So far from the truth, too close to the edge
I watch you fall away

We're bitter down to the bone
Point the finger but the blame is your own
Emptiness, a hole inside
Everyday we're breathing in the mess that you hide
Do they fear us? Are we the disease?
Turning into something that we cannot erase
But you will never see
No you will never see

Desperation burns in our veins
We fall away

The cracks in the sky will continue to spread
You let yourself believe it's the voices in our heads

The one who stands is the one who dies first
Watching every step we take
So far from the truth, too close to the edge
I watch you fall away

This sunken sky won't hold the weight
We must reset
Before it's too late
When there's no one left to be saved
What the fuck is the solution?

Violence is not the answer
We're knee deep in our graves
The cracks in the sky will fall away
